How COVID-19 is impacting workers all over Australia

We surveyed over 1,000 employees around Australia across multiple industries including Education | Construction | Professional Services | Healthcare | Government to find out how COVID-19 has impacted the way they work.

55% of employees we surveyed planned to work from home.

Of these only:

1 in 3 (33%)

were fully prepared to work from home.

Just over half (55%) were only somewhat prepared.

Approximately 1 in 10 (12%) were not prepared at all.

In conclusion, we found:

Only 25% of those surveyed said they would continue to work on-site, leaving these employees at risk of coming into contact with the virus.

Another 20% said they were unable to work from home, highlighting the absolute necessity for stronger contingency plans in times of crisis.

The highest number of employees continuing to work on-site are those working in Care. Among the workers who are able to from home, Care workers are the least prepared due to the nature of this industry.

Winc's extensive range of products can help safeguard on-site workers during this unprecedented time.
